

Trans-national Train-the-Trainer Workshop

“Diversity as a valuable resource”

A two-day seminar offers an opportunity for palliative care trainers from CEE and SEE to get to know new and useful work skills and tools.

The seminar will focus on sharing (and learning) methods for Hospice & Palliative Care trainings in diverse settings. By comparing the work practice and attitudes in the participants' training situations, we will learn from each other and reflect on our own strengths and talents.

Experienced trainers will be at hand to offer theoretical input (e.g. on group dynamics), moderate the exchange within the group and present various tools and methods that address needs and questions from the group.

Besides, it might be a pleasant way to meet the Vienna culture...

Target group: Professionals in the field of further education for Hospice and Palliative Care (for volunteers, professionals, students) and decision makers in the field. The workshop is aimed particularly at participants from CEE and SEE in order to strengthen the trans-national networking started by the workshop in late 2009.

Trainers: Dr. Christian Metz & team

Cost: Participation (training fee, full pension) and accommodation (at the Kardinal König Haus) is free for participants from the targeted countries (max. 20 participants).

Language: English

Vienna, Monday, Nov 29 & Tuesday, Nov 30, 2010
